CLARKE WINS IN KINGS. But Republicans Elect County Judges an

Probably the Rest of Their Ticket.

With the exception of District Attorney John F. Clarke (Dem.) the entire Republican ticket in Kings county was elected according to the returns that had been received early this moring. State Chairman Woodruff, the leader in Kings, conceded Clarke's election but declared positively that the Republicans had elected every other candidate.

Deputy Police Commissioner O'Keeffe said that judging from the returns Mr. Woodruff was correct. Frederick Lundy. Democratic candidate for County Clerk, left. Police Headquarters at midnight for his home, after conceding his own defeat and declaring that he was sure his associates on the Democratic county ticket had also lost

With the absence only of a few districts which would not be likely to change the results, the returns for the election of County Court Judges showed that Norman S. Dike and Lewis L. Fawcett, the Republican candidates, were successful over their Democratic and Independence League op-

The contests for Justices of the Municipal Court resulted in the election of Edward C. Dowling (Rep.) in the second district, W. J. Bogenshutz (Dem.) in the third, George Fielder (Rep.) in the sixth and Edward A. Richards (Dem.) in the seventh.

The race for Surreyare between Marcus The race for Surrogate between Marcus B. Campbell (Rep.) and Herbert T. Ketchau.

Somers (Dem.) for Sheriff, but the latter's tabulation (Dem.) for Sheriff, but the latter's tabulation showed that he was a winner. There was a like uncertainty in the race between Frank Ehlers (Rep.) and Fred Lundy (Dem.) for County Clerk and William A. Prendergast (Feb., and Charles J. Pflug (Dem.) for Register.

William J. Jaynor was, of course, reelected as Justice of the Supreme Court to succeed himself, he having been nominated by the Republican, Democratic and Independence League parties.

THE CHANLERS CARRY DUTCHESS. Lieut,-Cov. Chanler Reelected Supervisor

-Democratic Assembly man Elected. POUGHKEEPSIE, Nov. 5 .- The two Chanler brothers, Lieut.-Gov. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler and Sheriff Robert M. Chanler, took a firmer hold on Dutchess county politics to-day by sweeping Republican strongholds and piling up Democratic majorities The Democrats elected an Assemblyman, Frederick Northrop, in the Second district.

The new Board of Supervisors is Democratic, and the change of one vote by the election of a Democrat to fill a vacancy from Rhinebeck makes the old board Democratic. This result is especially gratifying to Lieut.-Gov. Chanler, as it was through his fight as a supervisor for reform in county finances that he came into political prominence. Lieut.-Gov. Chanler was re-elected supervisor by a plurality of 203. Last year he carried the town by 83. Brother Last year he carried the town by 83. Brother Bob is still the first citizen, however. Red Hook, where he ran for Sheriff last year, gave him a majority of 302. Frank Has-broucke, a coworker with Lieut.-Gov. Chanler, has been elected County Judge by Republicans Have Their Usual Big Majorit y in the Keystone State.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5 - The city and State have both gone Republican, State have both gone Republican, the city by about 75,000 majority and the State by 170,000. John O. Sheats, Rep., was elected State Treasurer. The only fight in Philadelphia was over the $11,000,000 lean bill favored by the Republican organization. It was passed by 50,000.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—The interior counties show unbroken Republican gains as compared with last election. In some instances the gain is 100 per cent. Allegheny county will give Sheats 25,000 plurality.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—Allegheny county, the Republican stronghold where a majority of 40,000 votes could generally be counted on, to-day alarmed the leaders by falling down to 15,000 majority in the election of State Treasurer.

Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary Oliver Couldn't Go Home to Vote.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 .- Secretary Root was compelled to forego his custom of going home to vote this year. At the time of registration this year he was in Mexico of registration this year he was in Mexico and his name did not get on the voting lists. The Secretary remained in the Department all day disposing of important official reatters. He gave orders this morning that visitors were not to be admitted.

TAMMANY TAKES IT CALMLY

HEARST SHOULD KNOW HE'S ELIMINATED, SAYS MURPHY.

Lantry Gets a Cold Reception From the Chief—Tem Poley Is Mighty Thankful and Promises to Justify the People's Confidence—Big Crowd Comes and Goes

Early in the evening it seemed as if Tammany Hall was to have no celebration, but around about 8 o'clock, when it became apparent that the entire Tammany county ticket was elected, things began to live up in Fourteenth street, and by 9 o'clock there was a crowd in the big meeting hall upstairs and a horn blowing, marching throng outside in the street.

But it was only an imitation and not the real, spontaneous enthusiasm that marked the Tammany Hall celebrations on election nights in even recent years. At no time were there mere than 500 per sons in the big hall and while there was the usual brass band, the blowing of horns and the din of cow bells the crowd was restive and seemed to think that by remaining for a few minutes it had sufficiently manifested its loyalty, with the result that there was a constant stream of men and women, all of them, however, full of joyfulness and high spirits, passing in one column up the stairs to the meeting hall and passing out in another column. Assemblyman Jimmy Oliver had the task of reading out the returns, but the crowd knew well enough how the election was going and didn't care to hear particulars from Paradise Jimmy.

Downstairs in the committee room, where Charles F. Murphy, most of the Tammany district leaders and nearly all of the candidates on the Tammany county ticket met to hear the returns, the gathering was sedate and quiet. Mr. Murphy sat off in a corner with James W. Gerard, the Tammany candidate for the Supreme Court, and listened without comment for half an hour at a time to the returns as they were manifested its loyalty, with the result that and distenced without comment for half an hour at a time to the returns as they were read off by Tom Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, and Daniel F. Cohalan, the chairman of the Tanmany law committee.

Occasionally the "Chief," as every one

Occasionally the "Chief," as every one called him, would smile in a grim sort of way when a return particularly favorable to the Tammany ticket was read off, and when it was announced that Tom Foley's election district had cast 284 votes for Tom and only eight for Ihmsen Chief Murphy allowed himself to thaw out sufficiently to wave a congratulatory hand to Foley.

One of the incidents of the evening was the meeting of Murphy and Fire Commis-

One of the incidents of the evening was the meeting of Murphy and Fire Commis-sioner Lantry. At the last primary election Lantry ran against Murphy's man as an avowed McClellan candidate. Lantry had received some figures from his district, and calling ex-Alderman Jim Gaffney to one side he said he would like to show the figures side he said he would like to show the figures to Murphy.

Gaffney went over to Murphy and, after whispering something in Murphy's ear, he beckened Lantry to come ahead. Lantry did so and held out his hand to Murphy, but for a few seconds Murphy seemed not to see it. When he finally took it, without getting out of his seat, it was with a frigidity of manner that lowered the atmosphere by several degrees. by several degrees.

When it was apparent that Tamany had won Mr. Murphy gave out this statement:

"The result is most gratifying to the organization and myself, and it indicates that the people have enthusiastically indersed the policies and the candidates of the organization and repudiated Mr. Hearst and everything for which he stands. The vote should have a tendency to convince Mr. Hearst that the people will not tolerate reckless and groundless assaults upon the characters of decent men, made for the purpose of political advantage."

"I want to thank the people of New York," said Tom Foley, "from the bottom of my heart. I have always believed that when a man spends his life treating his fellew men squarely and honestly and endeavoring to build up a good moral character, no lying statements can tear down his reputhe people have enthusiastically indorsed lying statements can tear down his reputation. To those who have honored me with their votes and to all the people I promise that I will conduct the Sheriff's office in a manner which will justify the confidence placed in me."

PINCHED BOURKE COCKRAN. Police Thought It Couldn't Be He, Se Arrested Him as a Floater.

W. Bourke Cockran was the most prominent sufferer from election day overzealousness. He registered from 210 East Seventeenth street, explaining to the registration clerks at the time that this was merely his voting residence, as he had given up his apartment there upon moving to Washing-

When the police tried to verify this registration they found very naturally that no Bourke Cockran lived in the house. Supposing a floater had made use of Mr. Cockran's name they applied to Magistrate Cornell for a warrant. The warrant was served by Policeman Thompson of the East Twenty-second street station when Mr. Cockran ty-second street station when Mr. Cockran appeared to vote, despite his insistence that he was a Congressman and entitled to vote from that address.

When the ruffled orator appeared in court Magistrate Cornell at once discharged him without the formality of a trial.

Superintendent of Elections Leary said that the mixup was due to a difference of opinion with the Superintendent's office about what constitutes a residence. The East Seventeenth street address given by Mr. Cockran doesn't gee with Supt. Leary's views.

Shortly after 8 o'clock he admitted that he was beaten "badly" Although in good spirits he looked tired. Judge Whitman declined to make any statement other than to say that he didn't care to discuss the political situation.

"As far as my own candidacy is concerned I made as good a fight as I could, he said.

At Headquarters and Happy at the Result of the Voting.

McClellan, accompanied Assistant Corporation Counsel Hoyt and Water Commissioner John H. O'Brien, reached Police Headquarters at 9:30 last night and paid a call on Police Commisnight and paid a call on Police Commissioner Bingham. Mr. McClellan said that never in his twenty years experience in politics had he been so pleased over the result of an election. It looks like a sweeping victory for Tammany all along the line, he said. For Tammany and for Tom Foley. Tom must feel pretty happy to-night. People are tired of the cry of thugs and thuggism.

MAYOR FAGAN OVERWHELMED leaten for Mayor of Jersey City by

Plurality of More Than 5,000 Mayor Mark M. Fagan of Jersey City failed of reelection yesterday. He was beaten by between 5,000 and 5,000 by H. Otto Wittenn, County Supervisor of Hudson, who never failed in his platform speeches to promise that if chosen Mayor he would ot acknowledge any man as his boss. As Fagan's decisive defeat became known he city went wild. There were 25,000 eople in front of the City Hall. There vas great rejoicing in both the regular tepublican and Democratic camps. The reatest reason for Democratic rejoicing as because of the Ritter bill, rassed by the ast Legislature and signed by Gov. Stokes which legislates out of office on December with Mayor Fagan all of his appointees xcept financial officers. Mayor Fagan was o-posed by the Reublican and Democratic machines. Alhou-h he secured his nomination on the egular Republican ticket at the primaries, ie followers of Col. Samuel D. Dickinson scretary of State and leader of the Reoublican organization, worked openly to acc mplish his defeat.

Disturbances were frequent during the progress of the voting in the lower part of ne city and the police reserves got lote of teroise. The first man hurt was Sidney L. Waish of 149 Barclay street, Newark, who was hired with a lot of other Newark men as private detectives to the Fagan forces. Their special duty, it was said, was to look

Their special duty, it was said, was to look out for repeaters. Walsh got into a mixup at the polls at Grand and Brunswick street, and somebody knocked him senselessa Later Thomas McDonald, an organization Republican, was arrested for atrocious assault and battery. Walsh said that McDonald used brass knuckles on him.

The police, under the direction of Chief of Police Frank Monahan, kept an upper hand of the situation all day and compelled all those who had no right in the polling booths to stay 100 feet away from the doors. Monahan declared that he proposed to have an honest election and no interference from the Sheriff's deputies.

Some excitement was caused in the afternoon by the arrest at the Pennsylvania Railroad ferry of half a dozen men by Michael Reardon, an ex-policeman who was dismissed by the Fagan police board several months ago, and several other Sheriff's deputies. Reardon said that the men were repeaters sent to Jersey City in the interest of Fagan. I'wo of the prisoners were taken to Police Headquarters, where they were recognized as Faganite private detectives from Newark. The others were escorted to the county jail. They were turned loose, as the officers had no commitments for them. The Democratic candidates for State Senator and Assemblymen won by large pluralities.

Mayor Fagan, who spent the night at his ome, took his defeat philosophically "I am not sorry so much for my defeat as or the men who have fought with me," said

GAINST SAN FRANCISCO VICE. aylor, Good Government Candidate, Will Win by Big Plurality.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 .- Returns of the nunicipal election are coming in very slowly, but they all seem to show a great landslide for Mayor Taylor on the Good Government ticket. Taylor is getting more votes than his two opponents combined, and as these partial returns are from all parts of the city the drift is shown very all parts of the city the drift is shown very clearly.

Even stronger than Taylor is District Attorney Langdon, who leads the head of the ticket. One complete precinct, the Eighth of the Forty-third district, gives 147 for Taylor, 48 for Ryan, 40 for McCarthy and 4 for Reguin.

Eight incomplete precincts from all parts of the city give the proportion shown in the individual precincts, and it indicates a far heavier vote for the conservative, law abiding candidate than ever the supporters of the Good Government ticket dreamed of. If this percentage is maintained throughout the city Taylor will poll a vote in excess of 35 000.

Every voter in the Twenty-ninth election district of the Sixteenth Assembly district in Brooklyn voted before 6:15 o'clock yes-

This district lies just south of Prospect Park. It has the distinction of being one of the districts with the largest territory and smallest number of voters in the greater city. Altogether its registration totals three. They are John Leary, John McGovern and Christopher McGovern. They all work in Prospect Park and live in about the only house in the district.

In this house, which is between Prospect avenue and Seventeenth street on Eleventh avenue, is the registration place at registration time and the election place at election time. Last month Christopher and the two Johns went downstairs in their own house and registered. This morning they went downstairs about 6 o'clock and voted.

At 6:15 o'clock all the votes in the district had been cast and the election inspectors got up and started to go home. But there was a policeman on the job and he knew the election law better than the inspectors. When they started to go he said that if they went he would have to arrest them. He said that the law said the polls must be kept open until 5 o'clock, and that as long as be was a quardian of the peace and an officer of the law the law was going to be obeyed. The inspectors argued with him, but it was no use, and finally the policeman called up his precinct. Capt. Pinkerton of the Fifth avenue station soon afterward went to the avenue station soon afterward went scene. He also de
